UNITY BANK WELCOMES ANDY HERRO AS CHIEF BANKING OFFICER

AUGUSTA, WI: Unity Bank is pleased to announce Andy Herro as its new Chief Banking Officer.

Herro brings 16 years of commercial banking and executive leadership experience to Unity Bank. His background spans commercial lending and credit, market development, strategic planning, and bank operations. Throughout his career, he has helped build new markets from the ground up, developed significant commercial relationships, and led teams through periods of growth and change.

As Chief Banking Officer, Herro will bring his broad industry experience and relationship-focused approach to Unity Bank's continued growth and service to customers and communities. He will oversee the bank's revenue-generating business lines, with a focus on strengthening relationships and supporting long-term growth.

"There's tremendous momentum at Unity Bank, and I'm excited to join the team and be part of what's ahead. Unity's strong commitment to its communities and relationship-focused culture are a great fit for me," Herro said.

Herro is a graduate of Northern Michigan University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in accounting with a minor in finance. He has also completed the Graduate School of Banking in Madison, Perry School of Banking, and an Executive Leadership Certificate through the University of Wisconsin School of Business. He currently serves as a Trustee and Treasurer for the Community Foundation of Marquette County.

About Unity Bank: Unity Bank is a community bank committed to building strong relationships, supporting local communities and providing trusted financial guidance. Through local expertise and personalized service, Unity Bank helps individuals and businesses make informed financial decisions and build lasting financial well-being.
